

Story

Manager or team leader in a bigger company leads his/her team. The team is still growing along with a staff turnover. Interviews with applicants have become a routine. Team leader has to read before each interview the documents from HR department and based on this to choose applicants, who will be invited to personal interview. By using the new Fiori app, team leader can preview all applicants in one place, check all necessary details (experience, previous projects, skills...) and decide whether to invite the applicant to personal interview or not by simple click on "Invite" button and to propose directly a date for an interview.

The content of Fiori app is provided by HR department. All needed information can be found at one place. The communication with HR is faster and more efficient too. Application could be used in each company, where interviews are held regularly. Users of the application are team leaders or managers on one side and HR departure on other side. Application can be modified or extended according to specific needs of each department or company.
